Uittreksel: James Sidney Edouard baron Ensor (Oostende, 13 april 1860 - aldaar, 19 november 1949) was een Belgische kunstschilder van het symbolisme. Hij wordt algemeen erkend als de belangrijkste vernieuwer van de moderne kunst in België, een dissonante individualist die zich niet gemakkelijk liet onderbrengen in een of andere kunstrichting. Minder bekend is dat hij ook muziek componeerde. Buste door Edmond De Valriola; Oostende, België De vader van Ensor, James Frederic Ensor, was de zoon van Britse ouders. De moeder van Ensor was de Oostendse Maria Catharina Haegheman, een dochter van winkeliers in kantwerk die beiden lezen noch schrijven konden. Zij baatte een winkel uit met souvenirs, chinoiserie en maskers. Deze maskers komen later in Ensors werk heel veel terug. Hoewel hij in Brussel geboren was, is James Frederic in Brighton ingeschreven, als zoon van James Rainford en van Anne Andrew, zijn Engelse grootouders. Deze Engelse grootouders waren renteniers uit Sussex. Ensors vader, ingenieur van Bruggen en Wegen, vertrok kort na de geboorte van de kleine James naar de Verenigde Staten om te trachten er fortuin te maken. Het werd een mislukking en hij keerde berooid terug. Ensor zegt van zijn vader dat hij een verstandig man was, een intellectueel die meerdere talen sprak, een werk...

Schaarbeek, 15 augustus 1967) was een Belgisch surrealistisch kunstschilder en een van de bekendste Belgische schilders in het algemeen.
In 1912, toen Magritte 13 jaar oud was, haalde men zijn moeder dood uit de rivier de Samber, na een wanhoopsdaad. Zij stortte zich, het voorhoofd bedekt met een doek, in het water. In zijn werk verwijst hij meermaals naar dit drama met het thema van een gesluierte vrouw van wie het aangezicht bedekt is. Van 1916 tot 1921 kreeg hij een opleiding aan de Brusselse Academie, onder leiding van Gisbert Combaz, Emile Vandamme-Sylva en Constant Montald. In 1922 trouwde hij met Georgette Berger. Hij had twee

Apostles of Light-Ellen Douglas 2011-08-15 A revised edition of the New York Times bestselling classic: the epic story of the golden years of American space exploration, told by the men who rode the rockets On October 4, 1957, the Soviet Union launched Sputnik I, and the space race was born. Desperate to beat the Russians into space, NASA put together a crew of the nation's most daring test pilots: the seven men who were to lead America to the moon. The first into space was Alan Shepard; the last was Deke Slayton, whose irregular heartbeat kept him grounded until 1975.
They spent the 1960s at the forefront of NASA's effort to conquer space, and Moon Shot is their inside account of what many call the twentieth century's greatest feat--landing humans on another world. Collaborating with NBC's veteran space reporter Jay Barbree, Shepard and Slayton narrate in gripping detail the story of America's space exploration from the time of Shepard's first flight until he and eleven others had walked on the moon.

Early Netherlandish Painting-Erwin Panofsky 2020 This book clarifies the historical premises of the achievement of Hubert and Jan van Eyck. It helps to assess what we know about their style and to chart the course of those ensuing developments to constitute the main stream of the Early Netherlandish tradition.

Neel Doff (1858-1942)-Evelyne Wilwerth 1997 A translation of a biography of Belgian writer Neel Doff describing in a novelistic fashion the life of an extraordinary woman. Wilwerth blends hypothetical conversations with serious research, rendering Doff's ordeals as a starving child and prostitute, her move into the upper echelons of Brussels' society, and the beginning of her writing career at the age of 51. Perhaps more remarkable than her literary achievements are Doff's sheer determination and hunger for knowledge. Lacks an index. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc.,

Renaissance? Perceptions of Continuity and Discontinuity in Europe, c.1300- c.1550- 2010-09-24 Building on recent revisionist trends, this book offers a refreshing new perspective on the Renaissance and presents an invaluable examination of continuities and discontinuities from Petrarch to Machiavelli, from Giotto to Dürer, and from Italy to Burgundy, Bohemia and beyond.

The Man Who Made Vermeers-Jonathan Lopez 2009 Looks at the life of Dutch painter Hans Van Meegeren, who emerges as an ingenious, dyed-in-the-wool crook who plied the forger's trade far longer than he ever admitted in a detailed story of deceit in the art world.

The Amateur and the Professional-P. J. A. Levine 2003-02-13 This book highlights the growing divide in nineteenth-century intellectual circles between amateur and professional interest, and explores the institutional means whereby professional ascendancy was achieved in the broad field of studies of the past. It is concerned with how antiquarian 'gentlemen of leisure', pursuing their interests through local archaeological societies, were, by the end of the century, relegated to the sidelines of the now university-based discipline of history. At the same time it explores the theological as well as technical barriers which arrested the development of archaeology in this period. This is a notable contribution to the intellectual history of Victorian England, attending not simply to the ideas perpetrated by these communities of scholarship but to their social status, relating such social consideration to a more traditional intellectual history to create a new social history of ideas.

Wendell Phillips-Thomas Wentworth Higginson 1884

My Little War-Louis Paul Boon 2010-01 The great Flemish writer Louis Paul Boon began his life's work with this extraordinary novel, a story of World War II as seen through the unglamorous, uncourageous, unhistorical eyes of the man on the street. Frustrated with the dainty, straightforward, neatly chronological narratives that dominated fiction in his country, Boon started including overheard conversations, newspaper articles, manifestos, and other sights and noises of daily life in his work. Happily foul-mouthed and dirty-minded, eager to wade into the mud, Boon was resolutely unliterary while pursuing the most literary of goals: a new kind of writing, and a more honest way of looking at the world.

The Witch's Handbook-Malcolm Bird 1988 A humorous handbook for witches, providing instruction in areas such as spells, superstitions, recipes, gardening, and glamour.

Carrying the Fire-Michael Collins 2019-04-16 Reissued with a new preface by the author on the fiftieth anniversary of the Apollo 11 journey to the moon The years that have passed since Neil Armstrong, Buzz Aldrin, and Michael Collins piloted the Apollo 11 spacecraft to the moon in July 1969 have done nothing to alter the fundamental wonder of the event: man reaching the moon remains one of the great events—technical and spiritual—of our lifetime. In Carrying the Fire, Collins conveys, in a very personal way, the drama, beauty, and humor of that adventure. He also traces his development from his first flight experiences in the air force, through his days as a test pilot, to his Apollo 11 space walk, presenting an evocative picture of the joys of flight as well as a new perspective on time, light, and movement from someone who has seen the fragile earth from the other side of the moon.

Quickborn-Klaus Groth 1906

Van Eyck and the Founders of Early Netherlandish Painting-Otto Pächt 1999 In this volume, the author is concerned with one of the key problems in the history of western art: the comet-like appearance of a new kind of painting in Northern Europe at the end of the 14th century. Never losing sight of the visual evidence before him, Pacht examines the work of Jan and Hubert Van Eyck, the Master of Flemalle and their contemporaries in the context of a changing intellectual world, the passage from medieval thought to a perception that recognizes and embraces all facets of visible reality. 'Pacht's ability to analyse visual data and his capacity to link cause and effect remain a model of art historical discourse.'

Beatrijs, a Middle Dutch Legend-Adriaan Jacob Barnouw 2018-02-19 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important, and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work was reproduced from the original artifact, and remains as true to the original work as possible. Therefore, you will see the original copyright references, library stamps (as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world), and other notations in the work. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work. Red Star Line-Bram Beelaert 2016

The Books that Shaped Art History: From Gombrich and Greenberg to Alpers and Krauss-Richard Shone 2013-04-05 An exemplary survey that reassesses the impact of the most important books to have shaped art history through the twentieth century. Written by some of today's leading art historians and curators, this new collection provides an invaluable road map of the field by comparing and reexamining canonical works of art history. From Émile Mâle's magisterial study of thirteenth-century French art, first published in 1898, to Hans Belting's provocative Likeness and Presence: A History of the Image before the Era of Art, the book provides a concise and insightful overview of the history of art, told through its most enduring literature. Each of the essays looks at the impact of a single major book of art history, mapping the intellectual development of the writer under review, setting out the premises and argument of the book, considering its position within the broader field of art history, and analyzing its significance in the context of both its initial reception and its afterlife. An introduction by John-Paul Stonard explores how art history has been forged by outstanding contributions to scholarship, and by the dialogues and ruptures between them.

The Old Masters of Belgium and Holland-Eugène Fromentin 1900

Early Netherlandish Painting-Otto Pacht 1997 This volume follows on from Pacht's work on the Van Eycks and their circle, to encompass the great artists of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Figures such as Van Der Weyden, Bouts, Christus, Van Der Goes and Memling, as well as lesser known artists, are examined in turn. With detailed discussion of particular paintings, style and symbolism.

A New Vermeer-Frederik H. Kreuger 2007

Master of Shadows-Mark Lamster 2010-10 Reconstructs the life of the painter and diplomat who traveled from his home in Antwerp to the courts of London, Madrid, Paris, and Rome.

Cleveland-William Ganson Rose 1990 Traces the history of the Ohio city from its days as a frontier settlement, through the coming of industrialization, to 1950.

Luc Tuymans. La Pelle. Catalogo Della Mostra (Venezia, 24 Marzo 2019-6 Gennaio 2020). Ediz. Italiana, Inglese E Francese-Luc Tuymans 2019 Luc Tuymans: La Pelle documents the most ambitious monographic exhibition of the work of Luc Tuymans (born 1958). The Pinault Collection at Palazzo Grassi has in the past mounted exhibitions of the work of Sigmar Polke, Damien Hirst and Urs Fischer in its elegant interiors along the Grand Canal in Venice. It was thus the appropriate venue for this survey of Luc Tuymans' work. Quiet, restrained and at times unsettling, his works engage with questions of history and its representation and with everyday subject matter in an unfamiliar and eerie light. Painted from preexisting imagery, they often appear slightly out-of-focus and sparsely colored, like third-degree abstractions from reality. Whereas earlier works were based on magazine pictures, drawings, television footage and Polaroids, recent source images include material accessed online and the artist's own iPhone photos, printed out and sometimes rephotographed several times.

Winner Take Nothing-Ernest Hemingway 2014-05-22 Ernest Hemingway's first new book of fiction, since the publication of A Farewell to Arms in 1929, contains fourteen stories of varying length. Some of them have appeared in magazines but the majority have not been published before. The characters and backgrounds are widely varied. "A Clean, Well-Lighted Place" is about an old Spanish Beggar. "Homage to Switzerland" concerns various conversations at a Swiss railway-station restaurant. "The Gambler, the Nun, and the Radio" is laid in the accident ward of a hospital in Western United States, and so on. Ernest Hemingway made his literary start as a short-story writer. He has always excelled in that medium, and this volume reveals him at his best.

Degeneration-Max Simon Nordau 1895

Marketing Modernism in Fin-de-siècle Europe-Robert Jensen 1996 In describing the canon-building of modern dealerships, Jensen considers the new "ideological dealer" and explores the commercial construction of artistic identity through such rhetorical concepts as temperament and "independent art" and through such institutional structures as the retrospective.

The State of Things-Luc Tuymans 2009 This book bundles the works of contemporary artists in Belgium and China. China can still be considered as "Terra Incognita" when it comes to art. The image we have of Chinese art is quite cliché: China as an imitator of the western world. A confrontat

Adam Elsheimer, 1578-1610-Rüdiger Klessmann 2006 "Adam Elsheimer is first recorded in 1600 and by 1610 he was dead. But Elsheimer was influential on the coming century to a degree out of all proportion to his brief career and small output. Above all, he revolutionised the handling of light in landscapes and interiors, introducing novel ways of handling complex narratives as well as inventing new subject matter in painting." "Although his importance has always been recognised, appreciation of the artist has been hampered by a lack of good reproductions. This book offers for the first time a host of lavish colour details from his paintings that demonstrate Elsheimer's extraordinarily fine touch and feeling. This major study, the first to appear in English for nearly thirty years, accompanies a landmark exhibition being held at the Stadelches Kunstinstitut in Frankfurt, at the National Gallery of Scotland in Edinburgh and at Dulwich Picture Gallery in London."--BOOK JACKET.

The Raid on Zeebrugge-Carl Decaluwé 2015-08-19 This book is the fruit of the chance discovery of a series of photographic plates belonging to Alfred Carpenter, who commanded the lead ship, HMS Vindictive, during the raid. These pictures provide us with a unique insight into this daring naval operation, which was to result in the most Victoria crosses ever being awarded for a single action. The plates were used by Captain Carpenter to illustrate a lecture tour of the United States and Canada after the war. Winston Churchill called the raid on Zeebrugge 'the finest feat of arms of the Great War'. This brief, but bloody, action resulted in the highest number of Victoria Crosses ever awarded for a single action. Approximately one thousand officers and men of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines stormed the most heavily defended U-Boat base in Occupied Europe. German submarines based in Zeebrugge were responsible for a third of all allied shipping losses during the First World War. During the Passchendaele offensive of 1917, the Allies attempted to capture these U-boat bases by means of a land-based attack. The failure of the Battle of Passchendaele made it clear that a naval assault was the only solution. As a result, on 23 April 1918, a small force of fighting vessels, towing three blockships, set out across the North Sea...

Han Van Meegeren Revisited-Frederik H. Kreuger 2010 After completing his biography of Han van Meegeren, both in Dutch and in English, the author continued to collect information about the artist's life and his art. Although the amount and the importance of the information was not sufficient to justify a new and extended biography, he did not want the data to get lost so he published it here.
